PRIMARY ELECTION DAY Tuesday, February 21, 2023

SPRING ELECTION DAY Tuesday, April 4, 2023

There is only one primary race to be decided on February 21. There are four candidates for the single Wisconsin Supreme Court Vacancy. The field of four must be reduced to TWO. The TWO finalist candidates will face off on April 4, 2023.

There are two conservative-leaning candidates in the race: Please investigate both and make your vote count for your choice:

Jennifer Dorow

<https://judgejennifer.com/>

NOTE: Jennifer Dorow is from Waukesha County. She is the judge that did such a tremendous job in the trial of Darrell Brooks, the miscreant that was out on minimal bail when he killed five people with his automobile in 2021.

Dan Kelly

<https://justicedanielkelly.com/>

NOTE: Dan Kelly has served on the Wisconsin Supreme Court from 2016-2020. He had been appointed to the court by Governor Scott Walker in 2016 to fill an opening left by a retiring judge. He ran for reelection in 2020 but lost to a more liberal judge in that race.

If neither Kelly nor Dorow succeed in the primary, TWO VERY LIBERAL JUDGES will move on to the final election in April without us.

WE CANNOT LET THAT HAPPEN

CONSERVATIVES NOW HAVE A SLIM 4-3 MAJORITY ON THE SUPREME COURT. IF DOROW OR KELLY DO NOT WIN THIS ELECTION, 15 YEARS OF CONSERVATIVE PROGRESS VERY LIKELY WILL BE LOST:

- VOTER ID
- ACT 10
- REASONABLE VS NO RESTRICTIONS ON ABORTION
- RIGHT-TO-WORK
- REASONABLE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY DISTRICTING

In other election news:

After the shock of the 2020 elections and the ramifications of solid liberal control started to become apparent, a multitude of new conservative candidates took interest in running for local office in Winnebago County. Conservatives in the county have answered the call of Winnebago GOP since that 2020 election to not only vote, but to run for local office. One of the high points of this surge in conservative activism is the County Board of Supervisors.

- In the 2022 spring elections, the County Board of Supervisors was transformed.
  - There were 16 new County Board Supervisors seated in 2022 after last year's spring election.

Fourteen out of sixteen of these new supervisors are very conservative or lean conservative.
  - This added tremendous sway to the conservatives that were already on the board.
  - Are these people making a difference for our county? Well . . . . .
    - The board voted to DISSOLVE the Diversity Affairs Commission. The vote was 19-14.
      - For those of you that are unaware, Diversity Affairs and Diversity, Equity and Inclusion committees are a trend around the country. They are aimed at what amounts to HIRING QUOTAS based on race and political favoritism instead of looking for the best talent available for the money offered.
    - With increased conservative support, the board now can push forward with a hard look at funding and borrowing to reduce the debt load with the upcoming budget. They are sorting out "gotta have" vs "wanna have."
      - Current projections are to fund needed Capital Improvement Projects (CIP) this year while paying down the outstanding debt. --- translation: the county will SPEND LESS than it currently expects to BRING IN. This, in turn will reduce interest costs in the future, saving for a rainy day.
    - With increased conservative support, the board is reviewing reforms to the committee and per-diem structures.
      - Over time, several committees have become redundant. This contributes to additional expense and bureaucratic delay.
      - Overlapping committees contribute to excess per diem expenses paid to board members attending repetitive meetings.
      - In current practice, a bill or resolution voted down by the appropriate committee can STILL come back to life in front of the complete board. This procedure is now under review.

If you remember in 2020 and 2021, HUNDREDS OF WINNEBAGO CITIZENS attended a series of board meetings to speak against granting the power to the County Health Office to shut down businesses if, in its sole judgment, it was in the best interests of the public. The same resolution would have granted that same office the right to remove individuals from their homes if, in its sole judgment, it was in the best interests of the public.

I believe that the Winnebago County Board would never have taken that initiative so far if the board at that time was populated as it is now. Conservatives have increased our involvement and are speaking up more and more. That is a good thing. We are the sane ones.

Here again, is a request from Winnebago GOP for you to consider involvement in our local government bodies. Winnebago GOP is here to help.

If you are interested in running for local political office in the future, please contact campaign@winnebagogop.org call us at 920-303-9270 or stop in at 738 North Main Street for more information and to contribute to the conservative future of our country.

~~Hey, it's just a joke!~~ (Sorry. I'm losing my sense of humor)

Not a joke

"So, we are here together because we collectively believe and know America is a promise. America is a promise. It is a promise of freedom and liberty — not for some, but for all," Harris said.
"A promise we made in the Declaration of Independence that we are each endowed with the right to liberty and the pursuit of happiness," she added.
Harris, who is often criticized for overly simplistic, repetitive, or incoherent remarks, was blasted by Republican lawmakers and other conservatives for misquoting the founding fathers. (Emphasis mine)
"@VP conveniently forgets 'life' while quoting the Declaration of Independence at a pro-abortion rally. I guess it's easy to rewrite our founding principles when you need it to fit your own narrative," Rep. Dan Crenshaw \(R-Texas\) wrote in a tweet on Monday.
"Hey @VP, It's LIFE, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We have the right to LIFE," firebrand Rep. Lauren Boebert \(R-Colo.\) wrote on Twitter.
"You forgot the unalienable right to life, @VP," Rep. Lisa McClain (R-Mich.) said, also chiming in on Monday.

Joke

Also, not a joke. Have you noticed they have been keeping Kamala under wraps these days? Something is brewing with Joe performing worse and worse. Maybe the Dems are realizing that checking a couple of the right intersectional boxes might not be the right way to pick Vice Presidents.

Drip, Drip, Drip – Here comes the Green New Deal

November 2008

"You know, when I was asked earlier about the issue of coal, uh, you know – Under my plan of a cap-and-trade system electricity rates would necessarily skyrocket (emphasis in original). Even regardless of what I say about whether coal is good or bad. Because I am capping greenhouse gases, coal power plants, you know, natural gas, you name it – whatever the plants were, whatever the industry was, uh, they would have to retrofit their operations. That will cost money. They will pass that money on to consumers.”

Barack Obama November 1, 2008.

<https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/obama-under-my-plan-electricity-rates-would-necessarily-skyrocket>

Editor’s Note: Check the date. He told us what he and the Democrats wanted to do BEFORE he was elected President.

December 2022

It was a busy year in Washington. Congress passed important legislation to address weaknesses in presidential election certification and our faltering international position in semiconductor production as well as the oddly named Inflation Reduction Act (emphasis mine), our most important step to date to attack climate change. The measure allocated nearly $400 billion to clean energy, largely via tax credits, and a smaller amount to loan programs, research, and the like. While we have already been reducing our greenhouse gas emissions, the Inflation Reduction Act is projected to reduce those emissions by an additional 10 percentage points by 2030. That would put our projected emissions in 2030 at 60 percent of 2005 levels. Under the Paris agreement, we need to be at 50 percent of 2005 levels in 2030, so there is important work left to do. (emphasis mine)

<https://www.nytimes.com/interactive/2022/12/30/opinion/year-in-charts-2022.html?searchResultPosition=9>

Editor’s Note: There is more of this stuff coming, according to the NYT.

January 2023

“In my country, we passed the Inflation Reduction Act which is primarily a climate act; $369 billion which will actually be much larger than that because the heavy lifting is done by tax credits that are very long term, some of them actually open ended, and the early investments that have already been triggered by it give a great deal of reasons, many reasons for believing that it’s going to be much bigger than $369 billion.” Al Gore, at the World Economic Forum Davos, Switzerland, January 2023.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-11650261/Former-VP-Al-Gore-warns-boiling-oceans-rain-bombs-unhinged-speech-Davos-forum.html>

Editor’s NOTE: If Americans support this so much, why do they have to hide it from us? Inflation Reduction Act indeed!

January 2023

It should be clear by now that the Democrats are leading the nation into rapid collapse. Democrats in Minnesota banned coal, oil, and gas after passing historic legislation in the state House of Representatives on Thursday. Democrats hold a 34-33 advantage in the Minnesota State Senate. Democrats hold a 70-64 advantage in the Minnesota State House of Representatives. And the legislation will cause electricity prices to skyrocket (emphasis mine).

This comes at the same time that Joe Biden banned mining in the Iron Range, a Democrat-dominant working-class area in north-eastern Minnesota. The Minnesota House passed legislation after seven hours of debate late Thursday night that would require the state’s electricity grid to be 100% carbon-free in 17 years. This is an unrealistic timeline that could endanger the lives of Minnesotans if it fails while causing their electricity bills to skyrocket, Republicans argued throughout the night.

<https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2023/01/suicide-pact-minnesota-democrats-pass-bill-ban-coal-oil-gas-on-e-nations-coldest-states-biden-bans-mining-states-iron-range/?fbclid=IwAR1qP0WxeCRwWvmXgnjppY0pGT00nRbLkOhpE4cYg2q4fK04mrQ9u0S9KyA>

Editor's Note: Another name for purposefully raising the cost of electricity is rationing. That is how you lower energy use. Turn your heater down, stop driving, eat less. Each of these are ways to cope with the purposefully higher energy prices on their way. Pity those that are not well-off.. Karlin's Law #14: It is okay to be young and poor, but you do NOT want to be old and poor.

And on to other interesting tidbits

The University of Wisconsin-Madison awarded a $5,000, 10-week residency to an art scholar who pretended to be of Native American descent, so the scholar could develop a "toolkit and curriculum around cultural appropriation," before she resigned.

Kay LeClaire, who uses they/them pronouns, labeled themselves as "two spirit," an indigenous term used to describe those who identify with both masculine and feminine qualities. LeClaire had, for years, falsely claimed "Métis, Oneida, Ojibwe and Cuban heritage" and had even adopted an Ojibwe name, The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel reported.

LeClaire also co-owned an indigenous and queer art and tattoo parlor and occupied a space on the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women Task Force and garnered recognition as a prominent Native American voice before the controversy emerged.

<https://www.foxnews.com/media/woman-faked-native-american-heritage-awarded-university-residency>

Don't take Fox's word for it. Even the libs in Madison called her out:

For at least five years, Le Claire has gone by the name nibiwakamigkwe and claimed Onyota'a:ka, Anishinaabe, Métis and Cuban heritage. But little about the Sussex native's identity is known. Court records from past traffic citations identify Le Claire as a white female. Former friends and associates say Le Claire uses they/them pronouns and identifies as Two Spirit, a term used by some Indigenous communities to describe someone who identifies as both masculine and feminine.

Mayor Eric Adams' New York City forced all of its employees into a radical critical race theory-inspired training, according to a copy of the training reviewed by Fox News Digital.

The "mandatory" training was sent to all New York City employees with a March 6 deadline. "The training provides all NYC employees with a framework to understand... the importance of racial equity... in the workplace," the email said.

"Race has no genetic or scientific basis. It is a social construct created to classify people on the arbitrary basis of skin color and other physical features," it said. "Despite this, race has a very real impact on people's lives. This is because our society has used race to establish and justify systems of power, privilege, exclusion and oppression."

<https://www.foxnews.com/media/new-york-forces-all-city-employees-into-radical-racial-equity-training>

Editor's Note: I searched high and low on New York Times for this story. It is not news in New York City. Follow the science--- skin color and physical features have no basis in genetics? Really?

Crisis? What Crisis?

Border crisis moves North to Sanctuary Cities

November 2014

NEW YORK CITY

In late 2014, Mayor Bill de Blasio signed two bills into law that significantly reduced the degree to which city officials would cooperate with federal immigration enforcement. Introductions 486-A and 487-A ended the city's cooperation with Immigration and Customs Enforcement detainer requests, except in situations where an individual has been convicted of a violent crime. The bills also ended the presence of federal immigration officials at Rikers Island and all other city-run facilities. The city is home to more than 500,000 undocumented residents, according to recent estimates. It was included in a 2018 Justice Department letter demanding documentation about whether the city was violating U.S. Code 1373.

<https://www.cityandstateny.com/politics/2019/07/where-are-new-yorks-sanctuary-cities/177191/>

Editor's Note: 500,000 undocumented residents in 2014? That was about 6% of the population.

July 2019

President Donald Trump kicked off his reelection campaign last month with a familiar pledge: to deport millions of "illegal aliens." He said U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement would start the process of these deportations in a matter of weeks. (Editor's Note: You gotta hand it to the guy. It is ALWAYS about Trump with these people)

So which municipalities in New York state have identified themselves as sanctuaries for undocumented immigrants?

Although many cities, counties and states call themselves sanctuaries, the term doesn't have a single definition. "'Sanctuary' means different things to different people," (Editor's Note: sort of like the words 'boy and girl') Cornell Law School Professor Stephen Yale-Loehr told City & State. "And it is not a legal term."

What's more, New York City is the only locality in the state that is considered to be a sanctuary city by its elected officials, Moore said.

October 2022

A swank midtown Manhattan hotel will be home to hundreds of migrant families, Mayor Eric Adams said Wednesday, announcing that the Row NYC is being turned into the latest "humanitarian relief center" to grapple with an influx of asylum seekers in the city.

The four-star Row NYC hotel — located in pricey Times Square and formerly the iconic Milford Plaza — will initially house 200 migrant families and will have the ability to take on even more in the coming weeks, Adams said.

The $400-a-night hotel — once billed as being "in the center of it all" — has more than 1,000 rooms and is located in the same district as PS 33, the public school in Chelsea that parents told The Post is already overburdened by the sudden influx of migrant students who can't speak English.

January 10, 2023

Nearly a ton of taxpayer-provided food gets tossed in the trash every day at a massive Manhattan hotel being used to house migrants — because they'd rather secretly cook their own meals on dangerous hot plates, a whistleblowing worker has revealed.

Disturbing photos show garbage bags full of sandwiches and bagels awaiting disposal at the four-star Row NYC hotel near Times Square, where the city pays a daily rate as high as \$500 per room, hotel employee Felipe Rodriguez told The Post.

Other images show a hotel room littered with empty beer cans and bottles following a wild World Cup viewing party in November, Rodriguez said.

<https://nypost.com/2023/01/10/tons-of-food-gets-tossed-by-nyc-hotel-because-migrants-wont-eat-it/>

Editor's Note: Of course, now Eric Adams has asked the Feds to step in to pay for their altruism.

January 25, 2023

Why is Mayor Eric Adams destroying Midtown? The pulsing heart of the city, the theater, restaurant and tourism district, has not fully recovered from the COVID lockdown yet is already full of homeless hotels with their associated problems.

Now the mayor has announced he's going to turn yet another hotel into a shelter for illegal migrants in the middle of the Theater District.

The Paramount Hotel, a 600-room, Renaissance-style gem opposite the Richard Rodgers Theatre where "Hamilton" has been playing since 2015, is the fifth Midtown hotel converted to an "emergency" shelter in as many months. Earlier this month, tourists were paying $330 a night to stay there and prices hit as high as $1,000 around New Year's Eve.

The Paramount is around the corner from the $400-a-night Italianate Row Hotel on Eighth Avenue, whose 1,300 rooms were handed over to illegals late last year.

<https://nypost.com/2023/01/25/this-migrant-mess-is-ruining-nycs-midtown/>

January 30, 2023

Headline from Good Morning / New York Times

A surge of migrants taking buses northward has led Mayor Eric Adams to describe New York City as close to a "breaking point."

The city says it has spent more than $300 million since last spring. For a rough comparison, the city spends about $400 million a year on public libraries. In a turbulent economy, the extra costs could force the city to trim some popular social services, though state and federal aid could lighten the burden. (emphasis mine)

New York Times, January 30, 2023

Editor's Note: THEY are the good Samaritans. Shouldn't THEY pay the bill for their generosity. In the future we in fly-over country will be asked to pay for this as well as bail California and Illinois out of bankruptcy, too.

Who Is The Dumbest State In America?

OPEN

35. Wisconsin's high-ranking colleges make up for its relatively low position

- Population: 5,893,718
- Percentage holding advanced degrees: 10.7%
- Median household income: $60,773

There are some excellent choices of college in this state, with Wisconsin offering more than 80 to prospective students. Although the region might not quite be considered one of the most educated states in the US, the University of Wisconsin - Madison does rank 38th in the nation. Marquette University in Milwaukee also fares well in 83rd.

One is certainly more affordable than the other, with the latter being private and therefore charging higher fees. As for the former, in-state tuition and fees come to just under $11,000, a stark contrast to the almost $40,000 for those out-of-state. Another perk: it's apparently one of the top party schools in the nation.

The farming industry in Wisconsin means there's a lack of advanced degrees

One of the most prominent things that drags Wisconsin down the list of the most educated states in the US is, yet again, the number of people living in the state. Despite having access to some of the best colleges, only 10.7% of people have an advanced degree. Still. That means around 630,000 earned their cap and gown.

The industries thriving in Wisconsin include agriculture, manufacturing, and tourism, which again may explain how the state ended up in this position. However, the higher education facilities here should not be underestimated, given how some of them rank. Thankfully, the affordability of the state means it's not lacking in workers, even if most of them don't have advanced degrees.

For the record, New York State is the fifth smartest state, and would have been higher if not for the rubes upstate:

New York is one of the most educated states, thanks to New York City

The old warhorse, who for years has forgotten how to investigate the government, wakes up:

Veteran reporter Bob Woodward said Monday that the intelligence community's reliance on the infamous Steele dossier "needs to be investigated" in the wake of Special Counsel Robert Mueller's failure to corroborate many of the document's key claims.

Woodward told Fox News's Chris Wallace that he was disturbed to learn that the CIA cited information included in the Clinton-funded dossier in a rough draft of their January 2017 intelligence-community assessment detailing Russian election-interference efforts.

"What I found out recently, which was really quite surprising, the dossier, which really has got a lot of garbage in it and Mueller found that to be the case, early in building the intelligence-community assessment on Russian interference, in an early draft, they actually put the dossier on page two in kind of a breakout box," Woodward said.

This is so inherently unfair and more practically, unsustainable. Any country (or business or individual, for that matter) that punishes success while exalting and rewarding failure is destined to fail. Everyone in this country has a stake in it — everyone should pay. Everyone.

New data from the IRS show that America's income tax system remained highly progressive in 2020, with the top one percent of wage earners paying more than 42 percent of all federal income taxes for the year and the top 50 percent paying 97.7 percent of taxes received by the Treasury. The bottom 50 percent paid 2.3 percent of all income taxes.

“We’re still putting 162 million tons [of carbon dioxide] into [the atmosphere] every single day. How about another?

First, the bad news:

A senior employee at Pfizer said in a conversation captured by the nonprofit journalism group Project Veritas that the pharmaceutical company is looking into mutating COVID-19 in order to facilitate the development of new vaccines.

“One of the things we’re exploring is like, why don’t we just mutate it ourselves so we could create—preemptively develop new vaccines, right?” Dr. Jordon Walker, a director of research and development at Pfizer, told an undercover reporter for Project Veritas.

Now some related good news from the same source:

Walker claimed that scientists at Pfizer were “optimizing” a process to mutate COVID-19 but were going slow “because everyone is very cautious.”

he also said, adding that COVID-19 is going to be “a cash cow for us for a while going forward.”

Editor’s note: --- again if you missed it, this will make Pfizer a bunch of money.

But alas, MORE bad news: Project Veritas released video footage Thursday night allegedly showing a Pfizer official becoming angered after being confronted by journalist James O’Keefe over recent remarks that he was caught making during an undercover sting video.

The man, identified as Jordon Trishton Walker, Pfizer’s director of research and development, strategic operations – mRNA scientific planner, was confronted by O’Keefe at a restaurant.

Project Veritas said that Walker “physically assault[ed]” O’Keefe and destroyed the iPad that O’Keefe brought with him that he used to replay Walker’s remarks.

But wait, more GOOD News.

Snopes says it never happened. Scopes says they cannot find evidence that Jordon Walker exists. Pfizer got him been scrubbed from the planet by Pfizer.

Before you go . . . . a few thoughts

For a substantial majority of Americans, the economy remained the most important issue as prices continued to rise rapidly, with the inflation rate reaching a peak of 9.1 percent in June. Happily, the overall rate then began to decline, falling to 7.1 percent in November (emphasis mine). But because of the volatility of food and energy prices, economists often pay more attention to the “core” rate, which excludes those categories. That rate has remained stubbornly high, at 6 percent, far above the Federal Reserve’s target of 2 percent. As the year progressed, the major contributors to core inflation shifted from goods (the Covid buying frenzy subsided) to housing and services like travel and hospitality.

Hurray! The NY Times reporter says, “Happily, the overall (inflation) rate then began to decline, falling to 7.1% in November.” Here is a chart published by Fox Business News confirming the good news:

Yes, it is good news that the rate of inflation GROWTH is turning down. But what does it mean to John Q. Public at the store and on the street?

- Specific products that contribute to this figure, and those that are excluded from this figure as well, have their own stories and their own statistic.
  - Gas prices goes up and down for many reasons.

- o Egg prices seem to go only one way because of specific conditions in the egg and poultry business.
- The RATE of inflation is one thing. This chart shows that the RATE of inflation has been coming down since July. But the RESULTS of inflation are another matter. Here is a very basic calculation to show this.
  - o The AVERAGE rate of inflation for all of 2021 was 4.70% (add each month's rate and divide by 12).
    - So, hypothetically a basket of products you could buy for $100 on January 1, 2021 would cost you $104.70 on January 1, 2022.
  - o The inflation rate for 2022 must now be applied to the NEW PRICE of $104.70, not on the original historical price of $100.
  - o The AVERAGE rate of inflation for all of 2022 was 8.02% (add each month's rate and divide by 12).
    - So, hypothetically, that same basket of products you bought for $100 on January 1, 2021 that cost $104.70 on January 1, 2022, just cost you $113.09 on January 1, 2023.
  - o The rate is going down, but whenever the rate is positive, it means prices are going up.

Further:

- Mastercard has reported that a great sign is that holiday spending this year went 7.6%. That does not account for inflation, Back to the hypothetical
  - o If someone spent $104.70 on Christmas in December 2021, an increase of 7.6% means they spent $112.66 in December 2022.
  - o Unfortunately, that is a DECREASE in actual purchasing of 0.4%
    - $$112.66$  from the new price of  $$113.09 = $0.44$  LESS IN THE ACTUAL VALUE OF THE PURCHASES. Flat.
- Hypothetically, let's say that you had savings of $400,000 for retirement on January 1, 2021.
  - o Congratulations. Your savings on January 1, 2023 are the actual equivalent of $347,640.00
  - o Accumulated Inflation VALUE since 2021 is 13.09%, leaving your savings value at 86.91% of its original value.
- And, I would add, we continue to print money – for other people, not you.
